EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. Claims 42-48 are allowed.
2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.
3. Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Scott C. Krieger (Reg. No. 42,768) on 04/24/2007.
4. The application has been amended as follow:

This listing of claims will replace all prior versions, and listings, of claims in the application:

Listing of Claims:

1 - 41 (cancelled).

42. (currently amended). A method for customized image display, said method comprising the acts of:

receiving an initial portion of a scalable image file, defining an image, at a client device, said scalable image file being hosted on a server and wherein said initial portion comprises at least one of parts of a main header, and at least one of a tile-part header and a packet header, said initial portion also comprising initial graphical image data defining at least a portion of said image with a reduced image characteristic;

receiving a user-selected image customization selection, related to said scalable image file, from a user interface at said client device, wherein said selection designates an more detailed image characteristic than said reduced image characteristic;

determining at said client device, based on information in at least one of said headers in said initial portion, the bitstream location of at least one additional portion of said scalable image file that is required to render said user-selected image customization, wherein said additional portion is non-cumulative to said initial portion;

sending a request from said client device to said server requesting data at said bitstream location; requesting said at least one additional portion of said scalable image file from said server using an HTTP request;

receiving said data at said bitstream location ~~at least one additional portion of said~~

~~scalable image file from said server~~ in response to said HTTP request; and rendering said user-selected image customization at said client device.

43. (currently amended). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said reduced image characteristic is image quality ~~further comprising displaying said user-selected image~~

~~customization at said client device.~~

44. (currently amended). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said reduced image characteristic is image resolution ~~the size of said initial portion is relative to the~~

~~bandwidth of a connection between said server and said client device.~~

Art Unit: 2155

45. (currently amended). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said server is an HTTP server initial portion comprises metadata comprising data selected from the group consisting of image quality data, scalability data, resolution data and ROI data.
46. (previously presented). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said scalable image file is a JPEG 2000 image file.
47. (previously presented). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said scalable image file comprises packets interleaved in a progression order selected from the group consisting of layer-resolution-component-position progressive, resolution-layer-component-position progressive, resolution-position-component-layer progressive, position-component-resolution-layer progressive and component-position-resolution-layer progressive.
48. (currently amended). A method as described in claim 42 wherein said request comprises an identification of said image file and at least one byte range identifying said bitstream location. ~~An apparatus for customized image retrieval, said apparatus comprising:~~
~~an image receiver for receiving an initial portion of a scalable image file at a~~ ~~client device, said scalable image file being hosted on a server and~~
~~wherein said initial portion comprises at least one of a main header, a tile-~~
~~part header and a packet header;~~
~~a user interface for receiving a user-selected image customization selection,~~
~~related to said scalable image file, from a user interface at said client~~
~~device;~~

~~a processor for determining, based on information in at least one of said headers in said initial portion, at least one additional portion of said scalable image file that is required to render said user-selected image customization;~~
~~a requester for requesting said at least one additional portion of said scalable image file from said server using an HTTP request;~~
~~a portion receiver for receiving said at least one additional portion of said scalable image file from said server in response to said HTTP request; and~~
~~a renderer for rendering said user-selected image customization at said client device.~~

49-53 (canceled)

Reason for allowance

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record does not teach a method for customized image display, which comprising the acts of receiving an initial portion of a scalable image file comprises parts of a main header and at least one of a tile-part header and a packet header, and initial graphical image data defining at least a portion of said image with a reduced image characteristic, and receiving a user-selected image customization selection which designates an more detailed characteristic than said reduced image characteristic and based on the information in one of said headers, determining at the client device, the bitstream location of at least one additional portion of said scalable image file, wherein said additional portion is non-cumulative to said initial portion in lights of other limitation described in independent claims 42.
